Nottoway High School NJROTC Recognizes Cadets of the Month

Honoring exceptional leadership, service, and commitment

Nottoway, VA | Nottoway High School NJROTC | Cadet Recognition

Cadet Cheyenne Smith, Naval Science III | Cadet Kayden Ingram, Naval Science II

Nottoway High School NJROTC is proud to recognize Cadet Cheyenne Smith as the Naval Science III Cadet of the Month and Cadet Kayden Ingram as the Naval Science II Cadet of the Month.

Both cadets have demonstrated exceptional dedication, motivation, leadership, and commitment to the NJROTC program. Their selection reflects their outstanding participation, community service, teamwork, military bearing, and willingness to go above and beyond what is expected.

Throughout the opening months of the school year, Cadets Smith and Ingram have consistently represented Nottoway High School at numerous school and community events. Both have participated in eight Color Guard events and ceremonies, including home football games, volleyball games, and other school functions. They also supported the August 27 Cross Country meet through community service and participated in the September 16 Senior Convocation.

One of their most meaningful contributions was during the 25th Anniversary 9/11 Memorial Ceremony on September 11, 2026. Cadet Smith served as a ceremony reader, while Cadet Ingram took on the responsibility of Master of Ceremonies. Both cadets demonstrated confidence, professionalism, and respect while helping honor those who lost their lives on September 11, 2001.

Their commitment goes well beyond ceremonies and Color Guard performances. Both cadets have dedicated long hours after school assisting with the organization, review, and accountability of administrative records for all 57 NJROTC cadets. They have also played an important role in ensuring that cadet information entered into the Citizenship Development Management Information System (CDMIS) is accurate, complete, and properly maintained. Their attention to detail, reliability, and willingness to take on these responsibilities have provided valuable support to the NJROTC unit.

Balancing academics, extracurricular activities, community service, and administrative responsibilities requires discipline, time management, and personal commitment. Cadets Smith and Ingram have consistently demonstrated these qualities through their actions.

Both cadets exemplify the Navy Core Values of Honor, Courage, and Commitment. They lead by example, take pride in their responsibilities, and willingly give their time to support their fellow cadets and the success of the unit.

Congratulations to Cadet Cheyenne Smith and Cadet Kayden Ingram on being selected as the Nottoway High School NJROTC Cadets of the Month. Their dedication and outstanding performance bring great credit upon themselves, their families, and the Nottoway High School NJROTC program.
